VIDEO: Nikon shows us its flagship D3X DSLR

Hands-on at the UK launch

by Katie Scott published on 2 December 2008

Nikon's new flagship DSLR, the D3X, will be on shelves later this month, but we managed to get a hands-on at the UK launch, and here's our video footage.

We also had a chat with James Banfield from Nikon who explained what this model offers that its predecessor, the D3, doesn't, and who he thinks will most benefit from the features of this new £5500 model.
