Win a Casio EX-FH20 digital camera

All you have to do is comment on a story

by Stuart Miles published on 4 December 2008

Congrats to John B from the UK for winning the comment competition we ran in November.

John commented on the "Intel boss says netbooks only good for an hour" story.

But fret ye not readers, this month we've got another tasty prize for you to be in with a chance of winning.

Casio is kindly offering its 40 frames per second digital camera - the EX-FH20 - to the person that comes up with the best comment in December.

The EX-FH20 sports a 9.1-megapixel sensor, 20x optical zoom and a 3-inch LCD screen.

Users can record beautiful movies at a screen size of 1280 x 720 pixels, at a rate of 30 frames per second. The camera can be connected to an HD television.

The EXILIM Pro EX-FH20 costs around £499.99.

As well as the chance to win the camera via Pocket-lint Casio are offering a lucky winner the chance to win an amazing Safari holiday to try and capture all the animals on the Savannah. To enter you simply need to visit www.missnothing.co.uk

The rules of the competition are simple, you can enter as many times as you like by simply commenting on any story. At the end of the month we will pick the best comment and they will get a prize.

You don't have to sign up to comment on the stories, we just ask for your name, location and email address - that does not show up online and is not passed on.
