"Yep, it's that time. Come to CES to see all that Palm New-ness you've been waiting for".

So reads a teaser the troubled smartphone company has sent out, promising big things for the CES show, held in Las Vegas at the start of January.

Pocket-lint will be out at CES, so will bring you all the Palm news as it happens.

Can the once-giant of the smartphone world impress with its new-ness in the face of more and more competition?
