Win New Year's Eve tickets for Matter at The O2

We have five pairs of tickets to give away for the sold out event

by Ben Crompton published on 23 December 2008

Pocket-lint has teamed up with O2 to offer you the chance to win tickets for Matter at The O2 this New Years Eve, where 2 Many DJ's will be headlining the party.

The event is now sold out, so tickets are like the proverbial, but we have five pairs to give away to lucky Pocket-lint readers.

Matter is open from 9pm until 7am and has a line up that will include The Whip, Delphic, Filthy Dukes, Headman, Joakim, Riton, Riotous Rockers and Nadia Ksaiba.

All entrants must be over 18 and will need ID to collect the tickets, that will be left on the door for the winners.

The competition closes first thing in the morning on 30 December, so just hop across to the competition page now to answer a simple question to be in with a chance to win.
