We'd brought you the news that this was in the works, and it's now official with Nokia announcing that the N96 is to get the Comes with Music treatment.

The Nokia N96 Comes with Music edition is now available via nokia.co.uk/shop and from next week will be on sale at the Nokia flagship store on London's Regent Street.

Pricing for the handset and the year's worth of bundled music downloads has been revealed as £540 for the SIM free handset.

Nokia's Comes with Music service is also available on the Nokia 5310 XpressMusic, the Nokia N95 8GB and will be available on the new touchscreen Nokia 5800 XpressMusic when it launches later this year.
