USB plasma heart launches

Just in time for you-know-what...

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 5 February 2009

Brando promises the "USB plasma heart" will create a "unique and fun" environment on your desk or workstation.

A bit like a Van der Graff generator for lovers, the pink flashes from the centre will "move to greet your fingertips" as you touch it.

It's on sale now for a what-price-love $17.00.
