HP has announced the HP Photosmart Premium fax machine, a new addition to its wireless all-in-one printer series.

Designed for home use and those looking to "do more in less time", it will perform scanning, faxing, multi-page printing and copying, to photo, CD/DVD and Bluetooth printing.

Promising "lab-quality photos" and laser-quality documents, the printer boasts Wi-Fi 802.11g connectivity so all computers in the house can connect to just one printer without the need for wires or cables.

The HP Photosmart Premium Fax All-in-One also features a 6.1cm colour screen to preview photos and documents before printing, and card slots for PC-less printing.

It also has an automatic two-sided printing setting, and HP's paper-saving printing option to combine two documents on a single side of paper.

The HP Photosmart Premium Fax All-in-One is expected here this month for 299 euros (around £266).
