Teddy bear MP3 player launches

Plush player

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 13 March 2009

Gadget4All is offering a novelty MP3 player in the form of a toy bear.

The teddy offers 2GB of internal storage and plays songs or voice recordings through its built-in speakers.

As well as playback, it offers voice recording functionality. With controls on its paws, there's also an LED indicator on its snout.

The battery-powered gadget comes complete with a USB cable for data transfer. He's available now for $35.
