Dell has announced its Studio One 19 for launch in the UK.

We brought you news of this new all-in-one computer from its Japanese launch, but can now reveal it will be on sale here from 27 April.

Aimed at the family's living room, or even kitchen, the Studio One 19 is made of aluminium, glass and fabric and comes in white, blue and grey.

Specs-wise, there are choices galore with the option of an Intel Core 2 Quad Core processor, Nvidia graphics, up to 4GB RAM, up to 640GB HDD, 7-in-1 card reader, optional Blu-ray and webcam.

In addition, consumers can chose to pay more for a multi-touch enabled touchscreen display.

Starting price for the Studio One 19 is £579 including VAT and delivery.
