

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/23185/medion-gopal-e3230-satnav-aldi>

Medion launches GoPal E3230

Budget GPS

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 25 March 2009

Medion has announced its GoPal E3230 will be on sale in the UK soon at the company's fave retailer, Aldi.

Described as a "compact and resourceful" satnav, the device gets a 3.5-inch TFT touchscreen and will be preloaded with maps of "up to" 23 Western European countries.

With the company's GoPal Navigator ME 4.7A software, there are points of interest, arrow, 2D or 3D displays and free lifetime TMC traffic updates.

With text-to-speech functionality, users can chose quickest, shortest or most economical routes and there's speed limit advice and safety camera warnings too.

The Medion GoPal E3230 satnav goes on sale from 29 March, priced at £129.99 while stocks last.

