Next-gen iPhone gets mocked-up

Conceptual design

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 31 March 2009

For those of you who can't wait until June, when the next-gen iPhone is rumoured to be due, here is a concept shot of what it might well look like.

Similar to the current model, the Apple mobile gets a more tapered look as well as even slimmer dimensions.

Whether, come June, Apple goes bonkers on the design front, or evolves the current design, we'll keep you posted.
