Win an Altec Lansing inMotion MAX speaker dock

New docking speaker system up for grabs

by Ben Crompton published on 8 April 2009

Pocket-lint has teamed up with Altec Lansing to offer readers the chance of winning this new speaker dock fresh from its spring release.

This "premium" system uses proprietary ESS technology for an expanded sound stage, powerful XdB bass-enhancement and twin precision-matched, full spectrum speakers.

Offering to deliver "crisp sound unmatched by the competition and at a surprisingly large stereophonic range" the system should be able to fill a large room with "rich, realistic, distortion-free audio".

The inMotion MAX speaker system automatically pauses music when a call is received on an iPhone as well as featuring a built-in digital FM radio and rechargeable lithium-ion battery, providing up to 3.5 hours of continuous play, for when you're out and about.

As well as the Apple iPhone the Altec Lansing inMotion MAX is compatible with Apple iPods and most other MP3 players.

The comp will last for 2 weeks closing on the 22 April, so to be in with a chance of winning click on the link below, which will take you to the competitions page, and answer the easy-peasy question.

Good luck!
