

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/24041/gear4-crg-60-ipod-clock-radio>

GEAR4 CRG-60 announced

Ho-hum alarm clock dock for £35

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 12 May 2009

GEAR4 continues to crank out the products with the introduction of the CRG-60, its newest alarm clock radio for iPod.

The CRG-60 lets you wake up to your iPod music, radio or buzzer with two alarms which offer snooze functionality as well as "nap" and "sleep" options.

Audio-wise GEAR4 claims its twin drivers provide "high quality audio" in stereo with an LCD screen that can be dimmed or even turned off entirely.

With iPod charging when it's hooked up to the grid, the CRG-60 can also be powered by six AA batteries for away from home action.

The CRG-60 will be available from June for £34.99.

