by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 2 June 2009

Philips has announced UK pricing and availability for its GoGear Opus PMP.

The slimline player, with a 2.8-inch screen, offers Bluetooth stereo audio output, FM radio and, perhaps best of all, support for the BBC's iPlayer service.

When announced the Opus was slated for an April launch, but the player actually goes on sale this month in 8GB and 16GB capacities.

Estimated selling prices are £99 and £129 respectively.
