VIDEO: Nokia N97 in factory action

Pre-boxing footage revealed

If you like to imagine your Nokia handset assembled by Finnish pixies and sprites, using a good helping of Nordic fairy dust, then click the back button on your browser now.

However, if you'd rather be given a carefully managed, 3-minute PR video showing the inside of the Salo Nokia facility geared up to produce the company's new flagship Nseries device, the N97, then press play now.

Interesting in a kind of pre-boxing way, the video shows it's certainly not by magic that your shiny new handset awaits your trembling touch in its cardboard casing before your own private unboxing, and don't you forget it.
