Vita Audio announces R2i

DAB+ with iPod dock

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 12 June 2009

Vita Audio has announced the launch of its new R2i stereo system that's sees improvements over the R2 thanks to the built-in iPod dock, larger screen and a future-proof DAB+ module.

Boasting 20 Watt nominal power output and 3D sound processing, the all-in-one gets two aux ins, clock and alarm functions, and comes complete with remote control.

The R2i is finished in genuine "rich walnut" veneer or "dream white" and "midnight black" high gloss lacquers and offers pressed steel panels, woven mesh grilles and soft touch controls.

The new sound system will be available in stores across the UK from early July and will cost from £280.
