

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/24929/monitor-audio-launches-vector-speakers>

Monitor Audio launches "Vector" speakers

"Lifestyle" speakers

by Duncan Geere published on 19 June 2009

Monitor Audio has announced that it's created a new range of speakers that it's calling "Vector". The company says that they combine an audiophile design with "boutique styling", whatever that is.

The three-model lineup consists of the V10, the V20 and the VW-8. The V10 is a wall-mounted satellite, the V20 is a centre satellite and the VW-8 is a 100W subwoofer.

Each V10 costs £150, the V20 will cost £100 and the VW-8 sub costs £250. The company also recommends an optional bass upgrade for larger rooms in the form of the Radius HD370, costing £500. They'll all be available in July.

