In five colours

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 19 June 2009

Creative has announced a new range of earphones that it says will brighten up your MP3 player, laptop computer, portable DVD player - or the like.

The in-ear Creative EP-630s offer noise isolation buds and are available in the geographically-themed Pacific blue, Atlantic green, Mediterranean red, Arctic white and, er, pearl black.

With ergonomic, soft silicone ear buds, the new headphones are powered by a "high-quality and specially engineered" neodymium magnet transducer, claiming to offer "fantastic" audio reproduction with deep bass.

With a gold-plated, 1.2-metre, oxygen-free cable, the Creative EP-630s are available now for £19.99 at www.creative.com.
