VIDEO: Megawhat's tech week in view - 3/07/09

Miles mulls the big news stories of the last 7 days

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 3 July 2009

Stuart Miles continues his weekly look at the world of tech with this latest instalment that covers the hot tech topics of week.

Miles considers the now-available Firefox 3.5 that he thinks looks the same as all the other browsers and analyses the Pirate Bay sell-out, asking if it will become another Napster.

There's also talk of Europe standardising phone chargers and why Michael Jackson didn't manage to make a bigger dent on the Top 40. Hit play to see it all now...
