Although we're sure nothing gets your tech-pulses racing like an external hard drive, some people can find the subject a little dull. Therefore, in order to lead them to light and enlightenment, we thought we'd cover this effort from Maxtor.

Ebuyer is currently selling the Maxtor 500GB hard drive for £43.99, which seems pretty reasonable money.

Ideal for storing all your songs, videos and photos, just slot the USB 2.0 cable into your Mac or PC and away you go.

Complete with shock protection. you also get a 3-year warranty. There's a link to the ebuyer website below and we'll have another tech deal for you on Monday.
