"I love my BlackBerry more than my girlfriend" badge launches

Are you geek enough to admit it?

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 3 July 2009

Do you love your BlackBerry more than your girlfriend? More importantly, do you want the whole world to know?

If yes, then one of Alice Wang's "Commodity Love" badges, just gone up for sale through Generate Design, is just what you need to spread the word via stainless steel cut-out lettering.

There's no "I love my BlackBerry more than my boyfriend" option, but ladies can opt for the "I love chocolate more than sex" to keep the stereotype alive.

The badges are available now for $29 with free shipping in North America.
