

Daily news roundup - 08/07/09

News and more with your regular roundup

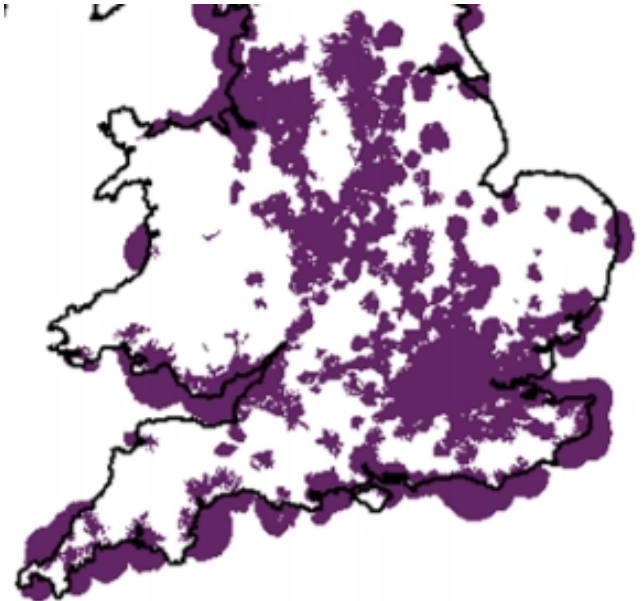

by Ben Crompton published on 8 July 2009

Find out which operator gives you the best 3G coverage in the UK, and catch up on the rest of the top stories from the last 24 hours with Pocket-lint's daily news roundup.

NEWS: Ofcom publishes 3G coverage maps for UK operators

Orange looking good, O2 less so

Ofcom has published some maps that it cooked up earlier this year, which predict 3G coverage from the five major mobile network operators - O2, Orange, T-Mobile, Vodafone and 3...read more

NEWS: PHOTOS: Gorgeous g0 Android concept revealed

Desirable design

We hope the phone manufacturers are taking note of Tryi Yeh's Android concept phone, 'cos it sure is a looker...read more

NEWS: Lastminute to launch augmented reality app for iPhone 3GS

Apple users to get Android app

Lastminute.com will launch an augmented reality application for the iPhone 3GS in the next couple of weeks Pocket-lint has learnt, that will allow people to find bars, restaurants and cinemas in their current location from their phone...read more

NEWS: PHOTOS: T-Mobile myTouch 3G

Hands-on with the new-ish handset

Yes I know we've seen the T-Mobile myTouch 3G with a different operator logo on it in the UK, but not in that lovely red or with those lovely backplates...read more

NEWS: Canon Pixma range gets two new all-in-one printers

US gets two new models under $149.99

Canon in the US has announced the launch of two new Pixma photo al-in-one printers, hoping to

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/25404/daily-news-roundup-8-july>

...cont.

appeal to those who want the usual array of print, copy, and scan...read more

NEWS: Canon SELPHY CP790 printer bucket debuts

Just make sure your photos don't look rubbish
Canon has continued its range of Photo bucket printers with the launch of the Canon SELPHY CP790 compact photo printer in the US, that, you guessed it, looks like a printer crammed into a bucket...read more

NEWS: Nokia rugged phone named as Nokia 3720 Classic?

Rugged handset will be waterproof
While Nokia continues to tease us with a viral campaign about its new rugged phone, details have reportedly leaked out about the new handset...read more

NEWS: Google announces Chrome OS Heading to netbooks in 2010

Google has announced that it is working on a new operating system, designed initially for netbooks...read more

REVIEW: Nokia 6700 Classic mobile phone Cyberman meets phone

The Nokia 6700 Classic replaces their popular 6300 model, living breathing proof that not everyone wants a smartphone...read more

NEWS: iPod touch 3,1 shows up online Is Apple road-testing next-gen device?

It seems those September refresh rumours for new iPods, and in particular a new iPod touch, are only going to grow over the summer...read more