VIDEO: Toshiba Satellite U500

"Portability, power and innovative design"

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 16 July 2009

Toshiba has announced more info on specs for its Satellite range of consumer laptops that will go on sale in the UK from late July.

All models are said to be energy efficient with an "Eco Utility Tool" for power saving options while the A500 and U500 models offer multi-touch controls on the trackpad.

There's more info in the official video above, and the run-down on the spec - in Toshiba's words - below.

Key features:

- * All models offer an ultra-compact body and a 13.3-inch WXGA Toshiba TruBrite display with a resolution of 1280 x 800, providing an excellent platform for the user that typically needs to stay active while on the move.
- * Powered by Intel CPUs and ATI Mobility graphics processing technology (on selected models), the Satellite U500 provides excellent all-round performance, making it great for enjoying multimedia content.
- * Eco utility tool and multi-touch control.
- * The Satellite U500 comes in an elegant luxe brown finish and two design variations will be available: a premium, chrome-trimmed model available as an alternative to the silver-trim design.
