

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/2649/motorola-slvr-l6-pink-phone>

Motorola turns the SLVR pink for Carphone Warehouse

Motorola has announced that it will be launching a Pink version of its new SLVR L6 handset

by Stuart Miles published on 28 February 2006

Girls hoping to create more room in their handbag for lipstick and puzzle books might be interested to know that following the success of the Pink RAZR phone from Motorola, the company has announced that it will be launching a Pink version of its new SLVR L6 handset. According to Motorola "The Motorola L6 is perfect for girls who like to be out and about" The L6 is one of the thinnest handsets on the market measuring in at a thin 10.2mm and comes with a VGA camera with 4x digital zoom. The tri-band Motorola L6 in pink will be available exclusively from The Carphone Warehouse stores throughout March, followed by wider distribution. We will be posting a review of the SLVR L6 on 9 March

