Win a Plustek TVcam VD100

Two in one

by Ben Crompton published on 28 August 2009

Pocket-lint has teamed up with Plustek to bring you the chance of winning a Plustek TVcam VD100.

The product is a little unusual as it combines the ability to tune into global DVB-T television - allowing your laptop to pick up TV signals - with a webcam.

The company claims that it has a compact and slim design, combined with plug and play digital video broadcasting. So now "watching digital TV on your notebook is no longer an imagination".

The webcam gives you 640 x 480 (VGA) resolution whilst the tuner features a "Time-Shifting" function, EPG (Electronic Program Guide) and scheduled power-up recording.

The competition will be running for 2 weeks, so to be in with a chance of winning just click through on the link below and answer the simple question.

Good luck.
