Star Trek uniform wetsuits available

It's a brave man who picks the red shirt version...

If you fit into both the Trekkie and surfer categories, then we have the perfect wetsuit for you. From Roddenberry, the suits are modeled after the uniforms from the original Star Trek series. With pricing from $435 (about £270) depending on thickness, despite the novelty value, the site says: "These wetsuits are not novel gimmicks, they are the real deal, made using the highest quality materials and expert craftsmanship". Available in "Command Yellow", "Science Blue", and "Engineering Red" each suit features a Star Trek chest insignia, rank braids, and RDT shoulder logo.
