

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/3871/goldvish-mobile-phone>

World's most expensive mobile now available from Goldvish

This bling will set you back a cool million dollars

by Amber Maitland published on 5 July 2006

The world's most expensive mobile phone is now available from Swiss company Goldvish. Understated it is not; the diamond-encrusted, solid-gold-with-platinum-detailing mobile is estimated to cost over $1 million. "Le Million De La Nuit" is Goldvish's special edition. Fifteen other mobiles are available in the Illusion collection. According to the company's website, each one contains 140 grams of 18ct gold, can be customised with diamonds, and is finished with either "croco" or "galuchat" on the back, whatever they may be. Tasteful, aren't they? <http://www.goldvish.com>

