

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/4861/digg-diggers-mobile-java-application>

Digg application for mobile phones gives Diggers instant access to the site

Download with a WAP phone

by Amber Maitland published on 22 September 2006

Diggers now have no excuse to neglect their Digging duties on the popular news site. B1TE Entertainment has launched a free Java mobile application that lets users browse and interact with Digg on their phones.

The application, called Digg Java Mobile, gives quick access to popular and upcoming stories, and provides filters to contain the barrage of information. Stories can be viewed using Google Mobile Web, or bookmarked and emailed for reference later.

By compressing Digg story feed by 5 to 1, it also cuts down on data charges for WAP usage. Although it doesn't offer support for submitting stories or Digg votes at the moment, that functionality is planned in the future.

Go to wap.b1te.com on a mobile phone WAP browser for more.

