Linx launches 8-inch photo frame

Showcase your photos and videos

by Amber Maitland published on 2 November 2006

Here's another photo frame option for your Christmas buying list – the Linx audio digital photo frame Photo 8W. With an 8-inch display, the frame lets you showcase images and video by playing them from a memory card or from a PC through the USB. Built-in 1.5W speakers play music while you view your slideshow, or playback audio from home videos. Portrait and landscape images can both be displayed. The device comes with a remote control that lets you rotate, zoom, and crop images; it's powered by a rechargeable battery or an AC cable. The Power 8W costs £149 from Directvts.co.uk.
