Roberts launches new alarm clock radio

Gemini 29 even features a nap timer

by Amber Maitland published on 30 January 2007

Roberts has released a new clock radio with a more modern look than its radios are typically known for.

The Gemini 29 is a DAB radio with alarm clock function, so that you can wake up to your favourite radio station or audio track.

An input socket lets you hook up your iPod or MP3 player, while an auto time set ensures that you'll still be woken at the correct time, even if you lose power in the night.

In addition, the radio has a "nap timer" that can be set in intervals of up to 2 hours when you need a quick refresher nap.

It features a large station name display for FM and DAB station listings, 10 station presets, and is finished in white and silver.

The Gemini 29 costs £100 from Roberts Radio.
