Lego furniture lets you rebuild your lounge

Big foam pieces slot together just like the toy bricks

by Stuart Miles published on 27 March 2007

Some people's love of Lego goes too far, but if you feel that the odd toy on your desktop isn't enough, perhaps you need some Lego furniture.

No don't worry, its not made out of the plastic bricks, this Lego sofa is made up of several rubberized foam pieces shaped like Lego.

If you are bored with the old design, simply re-arrange the various pieces to form a new look just as you would if they were real Lego bricks.

Yours for $466.
