

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/7305/o2-ice-mobile-phones-summer>

O2 releases limited edition Ice

O2's black variant of the O2 Ice

by Ryan Haynes published on 12 April 2007

Summer is just round the corner and it seems the summer accessories have arrived to accompany your new bathing suit and suntan. O2 mobile network has launched a limited edition of its O2 Ice handset.

Following the colour fashion of the LG Prada and iPhone, the O2 Ice Black is only available to pre-pay customers. It is a 3G handset that the company claim is feature rich.

The new phone has an inbuilt MP3 player, 1.3MP camera with zoom capabilities and it also has Bluetooth as standard. It seems to be good value for a phone you can take and use on your summer holidays.

Plus, to help capture those moments of summer madness the phone is equipped with 32MB internal memory and a microSD card slot. Not bad for a pre-pay phone.

The handset is available at all O2 UK retail stores and is priced at a reasonable £59.99.

