

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/8303/nintendo-games-for-apple-iphone>

Is the iPhone getting exclusive Nintendo games?

Just another reason you need an iPhone...

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 20 June 2007

Just when we thought there couldn't be any more justification for needing an iPhone this rumour pops up.

Nintendo are apparently working on games for the Apple iPhone.

These exclusive games will apparently be released via the iTunes Store at $29.00 each in the months following the iPhone's launch.

We're not sure how gaming will work on the iPhone, what with it having no keypad or d-pad an' all but Nintendo are no strangers to the touchscreen so we feel sure they'll make it good.

We'll keep you informedÖ

