Atari Flashback to be made into a handheld

Portable prototpye produced by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 29 June 2007

Further to the retro-gaming fun that the Atari Flashback offers, a prototype of the Atari Flashback "Portable" has been revealed.

The Portable will run on three AAA batteries giving 15 hours of play and will have a USB port to load games onto the handheld.

We think this will be one for hard-core Atari fan club only who will love the option to get in some "Millipede" whilst on the move...
