

<http://www.pocket-lint.com/news/8514/irikon-iris-scanning-flash-drive>

Irikon USB flash drive with iris scanning security

For anyone scared they might misplace their fingers...

by Amy-Mae Elliott published on 4 July 2007

If fingerprint scanning just isn't secure enough for you then you might want to take a look at Rehoboth Tech's new iris scanning flash drive.

The world's first, the Irikon Flash memory comes in 1GB and 2GB capacities and can scan and store 20 iris templates.

It can scan and approve an iris in two seconds, although we're not sure how it works vis-à-vis it being plugged into your computer...

