IFA 2007: Booth babes and dummies

Some of the more wacky costumes of the show

by Stuart Miles published on 3 September 2007

With so many TV's, digital cameras, DVD players, Blu-ray players, mobile phones and every other gadget you can imagine how do you stand out from the crowd? You hire some booth babes or crazy looking people of course.

Here are some of the best from the show, whether it's carnival queens, Nintendo Wii's in shopping trolleys or just nice looking ladies trying to smile at the end of a long day there was plenty of moments we had "What's the connection again?".
